Much has been said as to the prospect of a small fund for the Republican National Committee in the next presidential contest. But it appears that the bills prohibiting contributions from corporations, and providing for publicity of all gifts to campaign funds, although they passed the senate, were lost in the house before the recent session closed.

The squabble between the senate and house over the items of the "Pork Bill"—the omnibus public building bill—was after all but a log-rolling scheme to give each republican member an appropriation for his district and the senators their share of the pork. As Senator Carter frankly stated the reductions by the senate committee had been made to give the senate "something to trade on" and so compel the house to accept the items added by the senate. If any republican member was left out of the deal, he has registered no squeal so far. It is needless to say that the senate in this way added millions to the appropriations and the house was glad to accept this extra distribution of pork to save their own bacon.

That tariff war with Germany has broken out again in consequence of the adjournment of congress without taking any steps to adjust the differences between the two countries. The German government does not ask the United States to reduce its duties although Germany is allowing our goods to come in under her minimum tariff. But she is kicking vigorously because congress has not revised our customs regulations as promised by the administration, when the concession for the minimum tariff was entered into.

Congress has made its record and voters before renominating, or voting for their representatives, should investigate the record they have made. In those states the same investigation of senators' records should be made and the members of the legislature instructed to vote for or against them as their record for or against the people would suggest, and don't take their own record for what they have done, either.

The failure of congress to pass the Tillman anti-corruption bill is due mainly to the president. If he had worked for that important measure as he did to get $25,000 out of the treasury for his own private use in violation of the "emolument" clause of the constitution, we should have had an end of corruption in federal elections.

On June 27th, Secretary Hitchcock spoke at Harvard University; Secretary Metcalf, at Yale; and Secretary Root at Hamilton College. And the government paid only their salaries. Why should it pay more when Mr. Roosevelt goes forth to preach? They are as good republicans as he is.

It is not Teddy, or congress, or the supreme court of the United States, but Judge Ryan of St. Louis, who has done the work for the trusts. And it was done judicially at the instance of a plumber named Walsh, who invoked a state statute granting immunity to customers of trusts in suits for the payment of their accounts.

The Panama Canal Commission is now buying supplies in the highest market as directed by the republican congress.

The candidates this fall that are backed by the bosses, will be liable to be cut by the voters.

Now that the millionaires have got to assassinating one another, the anarchists may take a back seat.

A contemporary is running a series of essays on "The Making of a Successful Husband." Successful husbands are born, not made.

A hard bump on the head caused a Massachusetts bald man's hair to grow. However, hard bumps cannot be depended upon as hair restorers. Look at John D.

Only 13 men were arrested in San Francisco on the fourth of July for drunkenness. The town has been closed for nearly three months. Those guilty of being drunk are now put to work on the brick piles, hence the unprecedented sobriety.

The San Francisco relief committee has appropriated $34,000 for work in July.

The lid went on in New Jersey place since Agac. mAvsWicmfymfwy yesterday, no liquor was sold in that state.

The steamer America of the Raab line, from Genoa, Italy, June 3 for New York, is missing with 140 persons on board.

W. J. Friend has arrived in London and says that the monster reception in New York must not be understood as an endorsement of his candidacy in 1908, as it would not be fair to other candidates. What other candidates?
